Civil Litigation

No one ever wants to suffer an injury, but injuries happen – physically, mentally, emotionally, financially, and in violation of Constitutional rights. Unfortunately, innocent, good people become the victims of others’ careless, intentional, and abusive actions. You should not have to pay for someone else’s negligence or failure to respect your being or rights, which is why we take many cases on a contingency basis.

At Prince Law Offices, we pride ourselves in taking the time to listen and understand the uniqueness of your situation. We then take the time to explain your options. Working together, we will work to protect your future and fight for just compensation for your losses.

Our experienced litigators will represent your family in matters ranging from the minor dog bite case to actions against an overzealous police officer.

Dog Bite Cases

Man’s best friend, if not properly trained and cared for, can quickly become a vicious animal. Dog attacks can be devastating, leaving behind physical and psychological scars, and disfigurement that requires plastic surgery and/or ongoing treatment. If you are the victim of an attack, you may be entitled to reimbursement for your medical expenses and trauma.

Automobile Accidents

Americans have a love affair with their automobiles, but in careless hands, a vehicle can be dangerous and deadly. It is easy to underestimate the violence of a car collision. Even minor impacts can result in chronic, lingering injuries that hinder or restrict a person’s ability to enjoy life and earn a living. If you are the victim of an automobile accident, we can help you evaluate fault, investigate the scene, reconstruct the accident, and seek appropriate compensation for your injuries.

42 U.S.C. 1983 Actions

When a state or federal actor violates your constitutionally protected Civil Rights, you have a right to sue for damages and injunctive relief. Violations of your Civil Rights include, for example, false arrest, malicious prosecution, excessive force, entry into your home without a warrant, denial of your right to freedom of speech, and the right to keep and bear arms. The law allows a judge, in some cases, to assess counsel fees against the defendant.

We can also help with injuries arising from your Employment, Defective Property, Breach of Contract, Landlord/Tenant Laws, Products’ Liability, Credit Defense, Consumer Protection, and Fraud and Misrepresentation
