Divorce

Whether your pending divorce is simple or complex, we are here to listen, explain, help, and defend you, your contributions to the marriage, and your future viability, throughout the process. We can assist and represent you through the process of a “90-day” consensual divorce, “2-year separation” divorce, and/or a fault divorce.

Property Distribution

Pennsylvania is an equitable distribution state, which means that the court must evaluate the contributions and needs of each party to a divorce. A bad decision in equitable distribution could jeopardize your financial security. We can help you to properly identify and value all marital property and advocate for your fair and just share of the marital estate.

Complex Support

If you and your spouse are separated, you may be entitled to support to help pay the bills, keep a roof over your head, provide for your child’s needs, and maintain health insurance. Our attorneys are able to navigate the procedural maze and have a proven record of success. We can help you evaluate your rights/obligations regarding support and fight for your ability to preserve financial viability.

Protection From Abuse (PFA)

PFA Orders are truly a wonderful tool to protect individuals from abusive situations, but they can also be used wrongfully as tools to gain an advantage in a divorce or custody battle. Whether you are the victim of physical or mental abuse or the victim of an abusive legal action, we are here to help.

Custody

Nothing is more important to a parent than his or her children. We respect that bond and are prepared to defend your children’s best interests and your place in their future. Our attorneys offer a wealth of experience in drafting agreements, representing clients at conferences, advocating at trial, and prosecuting emergency actions, when necessary. Additionally, our firm has a wealth of litigation experience regarding:

International and Domestic Child Abduction

Imagine learning that someone took your child and has fled the jurisdiction, disappearing halfway across the country – or worse, halfway across the world. Our attorneys have represented parents who saw their children abducted to foreign countries, such as Peru and domestically to locations including Texas and Florida. We can help you file an Emergency Custody Petition and coordinate the application of the Hague Treaty on International Child Abduction with the Department of State.

Relocation with Children

When a parent wishes to relocate, Pennsylvania now requires that the other parent be provided with appropriate notice and an opportunity to object to the relocation. Because this is a new requirement and the law is currently in flux, regardless of whether you have a custody order, we strongly recommend that you consult with one of our attorneys before any planned relocation. We can help evaluate your move, ensure that you follow proper procedure, and, if necessary, fight for your ability to relocate.
